LOS COLORES DEL CARACOL

LOS RESIDENTES DE LA PENÍNSULA CARACOL, A.C.

Although not a resident of the Caracol, Phyllis Lilischkies was well known by many home owners on the hill as the owner of Siesta Realty. Phyllis died in Hermosillo, while in intensive care at San Jose hospital, with a COVID-19 infection. I have no information on any memorial service at this time.

Another long time resident of the Caracol, Maggie Douglas, died recently at her home on the Caracol. Maggie was the wife of Josh Douglas who was a well known contractor that worked on many houses and Caracol Association projects. Josh died about a year ago. No word on any memorial service at this time.

Hurricane Nora...Many of the Caracol residents are aware of the coming hurricane. But for those who have not been keeping an eye on the weather, we have a storm that is looking to track up the middle of the Sea of Cortez. The storm track looks very much like the 2009 Hurricane Jimena. Although by the time Jimena reached the vicinity of San Carlos, the winds were much lower, the storm slowed and dumped prodigious amount of rain (approximately 30 in) on our town. The result was devastating. Not only the amount of rain, but the runoff from the mountains to the north washed over us. If you are not down in San Carlos have someone check on you home to prepare for the worst. We can only hope for the best and that the storm weakens and moves quickly through. Fingers crossed.
